Sands China Hosts Community Events to Support 73rd Macau Grand Prix

Connecting the community and fostering 'tourism + sport' development through international sporting event

(Macao, Nov. 22, 2026) – Sands China was a major sponsor of the 73rd Macau Grand Prix, one of Macao's premier international sporting events, which raced through town Nov. 19-22 this year. In supporting the Macao government's efforts to advance the integrated development of tourism and sport, Sands China extended its efforts beyond the track by organizing community activities around event week, inviting members of local social service organizations to share in the excitement of the Grand Prix.

By extending the benefits of this high-profile sporting event to the wider community through the Sands Cares programme, Sands China promoted social inclusion and community harmony while supporting Macao's development as a "City of Sports."

In celebration of the races, Sands China invited parents and children from Caritas Macau's Centro de Serviços Integrados de Apoio à Família – Fonte de Alegria e de Energia (Centre), together with Sands Cares Ambassadors, to take part in a family-friendly motorsports experience. The group of 40 participants visited the Macao Grand Prix Museum on Nov. 15, where guided tours and interactive exhibits provided insight into the Macau Grand Prix's rich history spanning more than 70 years since its inception in 1954.

The families were also invited to a preview of the Street Steel – Heavy Metal Bike Gallery Macau at Sands® Macao ahead of its official opening. The experience offered them a first look at a collection of rare and collectible motorcycles and related exhibits from around the world, giving them an immersive introduction to the history, craftsmanship and culture of heavy metal bikes.

On Saturday, Sands China hosted members of the Centre at the world-famous Guia Circuit, where they experienced the Macau Grand Prix in its full intensity as they took in the thrilling competition between world-class drivers. These activities not only deepened participants' appreciation of Macao's motorsport heritage, but also facilitated family bonding.

Dr. Wilfred Wong, executive vice chairman of Sands China Ltd., said, "The Macau Grand Prix is one of Macao's most iconic international sporting events. Over the past 73 years, it has captured global attention and evolved into a distinguished platform showcasing the city's diverse appeal and dynamism, while advancing the integrated development of 'tourism + sport.' We believe the significance of a major event extends far beyond enhancing the city's international profile and competitiveness; it also lies in its capacity to foster social cohesion and create lasting shared value.

"That is why, through Sands Cares, we are once again extending the excitement of this year's Grand Prix beyond the circuit and into the community. By arranging community activities for local families to experience Macao's unique motorsport culture and the thrill of a world-class racing event firsthand, we hope to further demonstrate the power of major events to bring people together and strengthen social bonds. Looking ahead, Sands China will continue to leverage its resources to support a diverse portfolio of sporting events, contributing to Macao's development as a 'City of Sports' while reinforcing the city's broader diversified development."

For more than two decades, Sands China has remained committed to supporting Macao's economic diversification through sustained investment in non-gaming sectors, including the hosting and sponsorship of major international sporting, cultural and tourism events. Through Sands Cares, the global corporate citizenship programme of its parent company, Las Vegas Sands Corp., the company continues to deliver a broad range of community initiatives that extend the benefits of these events to the wider community, helping consolidate Macao's position as a World Centre of Tourism and Leisure.
